Dare to be wild, crazy, out of this world, or even — DARE TO BE YOURSELF! This year the yearbook staff did something a little different. We wanted everyone to be NOTICED! Some of you were hiding but we did get the chance to see some of you playing it cool, letting your hair down (or is that up?) We found one of our students ready to go into space during second hour and one of our athletes standing in mid-air.

As you cruise through these pages you will find even more of our students participating in some daring stunts.

OUTRAGEOUs!

Betcha wonder what some of NDH's students do in their free time, huh? Well, here's a section that shows them right in the middle of things! Now who says our kids are all work and no play?

Student Life . . .

Together Is Better!

Because North DeSoto isn't a large school, it's easy for students to grow very close to each other. We find that not only do people stick together at school, but after school and on weekends as well.

Weekends seem to be more for hanging out with all of your friends from NDH, and what is sometimes meant to be a date for two people often turns out to be a party for a whole group. Being with friends has moved dating down the list to #2 for weekend fun.

No matter what is going on, the bottom line is . . . we do it together!

Bonfires Blaze . . .

In The Heat Of The Night!

The beginning of a new school year marked a time not only for change but also involvement. Getting into the school spirit wasn't always a 'walk in the park' for students, but supportive parents and fans helped make things alot easier this year.

Thursday night, the evening before each football game, heated up as school kids from all grades, sometimes ignoring rain and missing the Cosby Show, gathered at the home of a player or cheerleader, and because of the support and encouragement shown, sparked the determination of victory in each football player's mind.

On Halloween, the Griffin team was scheduled to play in Many. Because the players were to miss their Halloween festivities, a holiday bonfire was creatively planned and held at, where else but, the Alewyne house. From pumpkins and piñatas to ghost stories and scavenger hunts, the bonfire seemed to be better than the actual Halloween night.

The eerie location of the pep rally that night kindled a memory of a Halloween some of us will never forget.

A long, dark, and extremely narrow driveway is no place to be stranded, especially for someone who had just been told the story of the spooky ghosts that haunted the Alewyne plantation.

But when a traffic jam cut off the only passage home, flashbacks of hockey masks and claw-like fingernails ignited in our minds.

The narrow driveway made it impossible for two cars to pass each other, and when attempted, caused a ten car pile up, leaving no way in and, more importantly, no way out!

Being stranded on a dark road surrounded by trees isn't exactly what five girls considered fun at the time. But that was before they noticed that over half the football team was stranded with them! Replacing fear with fun, we joined in the walk up the pitch dark driveway and found not only the culprit, but also a damsel in distress. A tearful cheerleader's Cutlass had been ditched, leaving no room for other cars to pass.

After the hard work and trouble of getting a truck, the car refused to be pulled out. Our last hope was to find out if those long hours of football practice had paid off after all. After a while of pushing and pulling, the team managed to ease the car from the ditch without a scratch, and we soon found ourselves safely in our cars and on our way home.

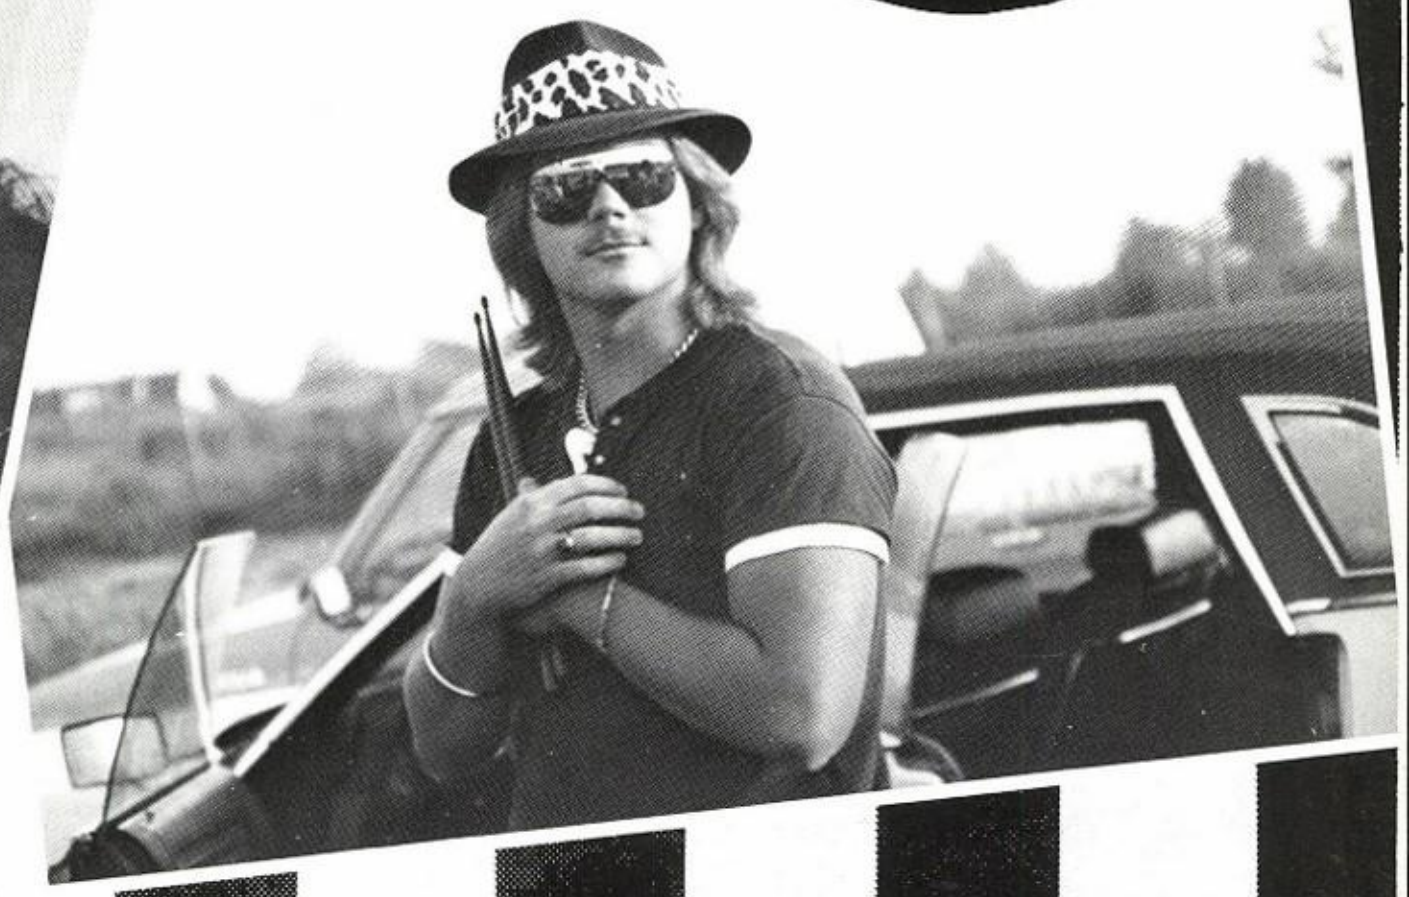
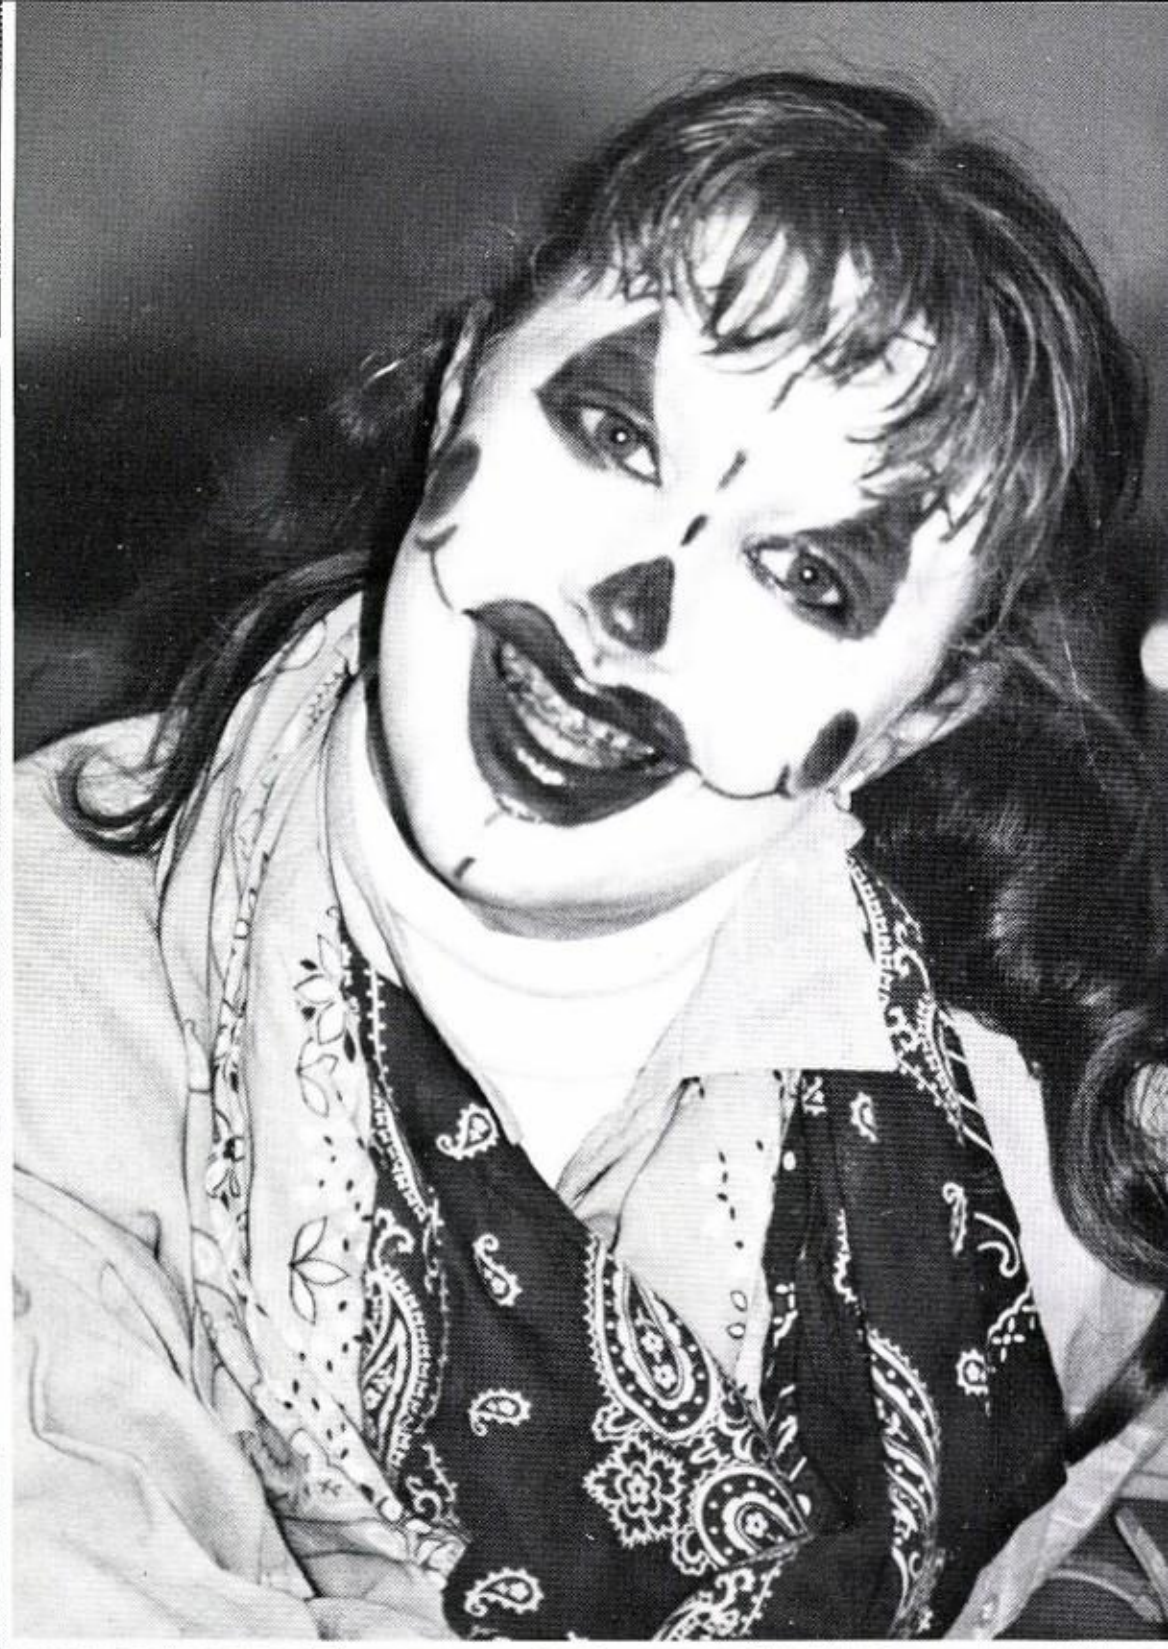
Expressions...

speak louder than words!

I'm sure you've often heard that of all the things you wear, your expression is the most important. See for yourself. Doesn't it make you wonder just what really was on these students minds?





expression (ik'spreshen) n., 1. an indication of feeling 2. a look expressing personal reaction of feelings.

Reign Or Shine

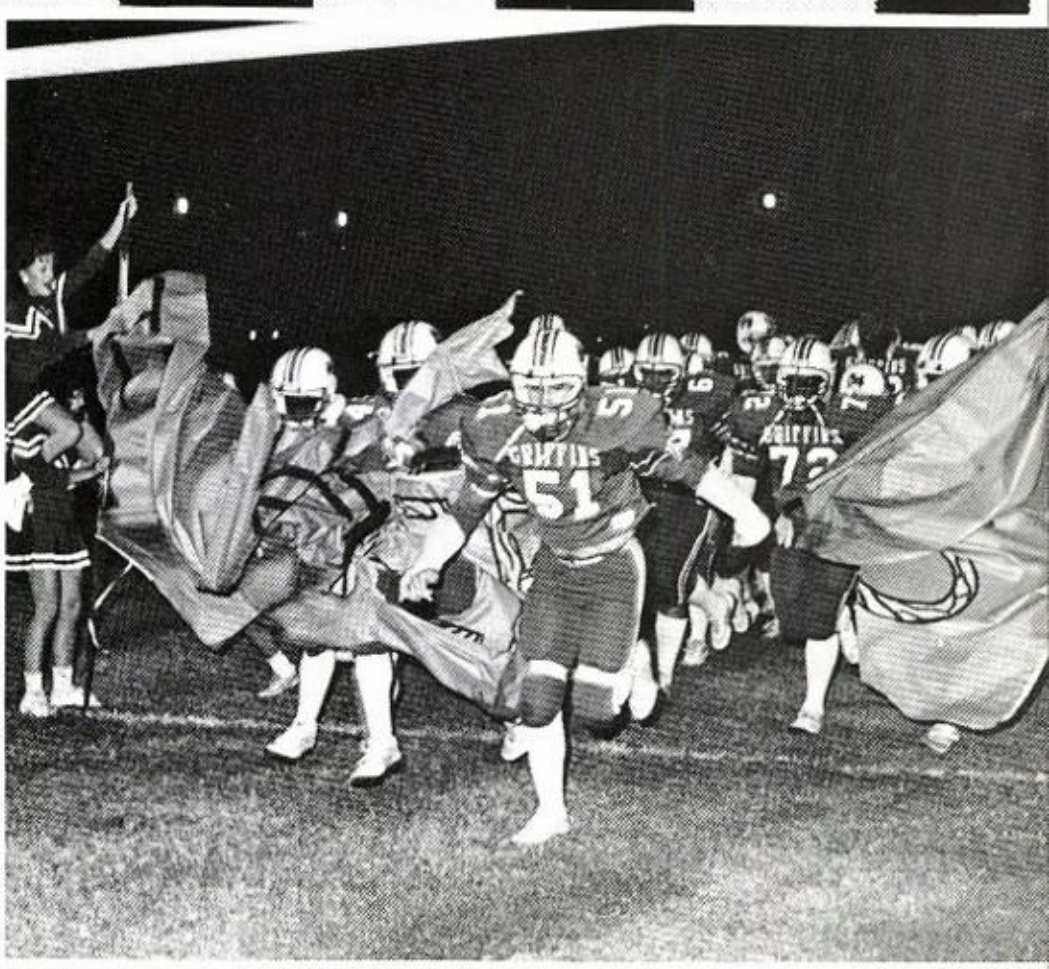
Homecoming Weather Became A Threat

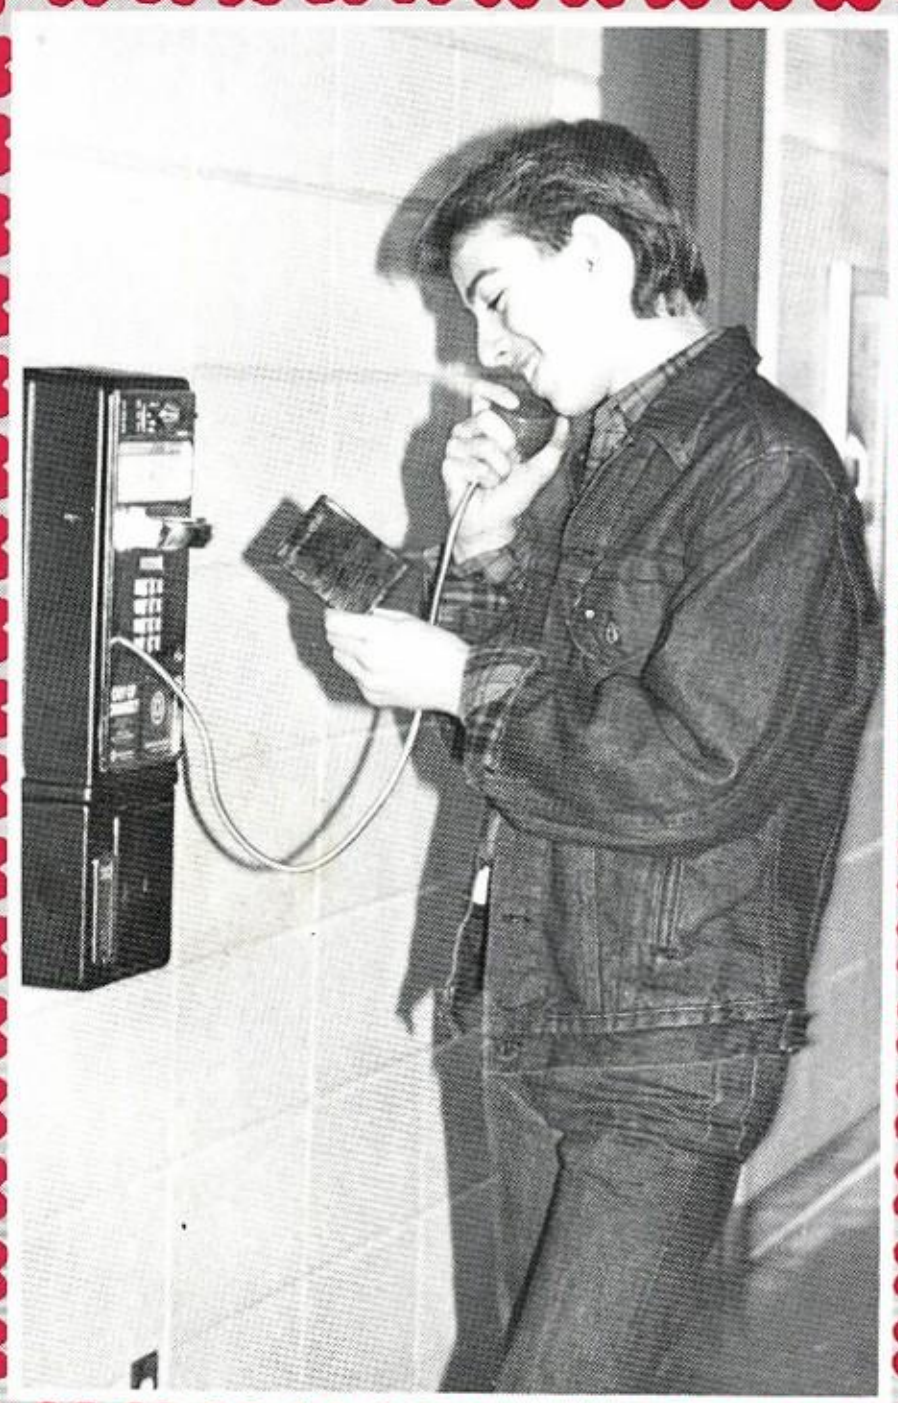
The forecast predicted rain, and doubts of a perfect Homecoming began to form. But what a relief! Mother Nature was lenient, and although it rained all week, Friday morning's sunshine was a hint of the pleasant cloudless skies that roofed the Homecoming ceremony.

Although it was dreary outside spirits were definitely not dampened as students, family, and friends cheered the court as each representative and their escort were introduced.

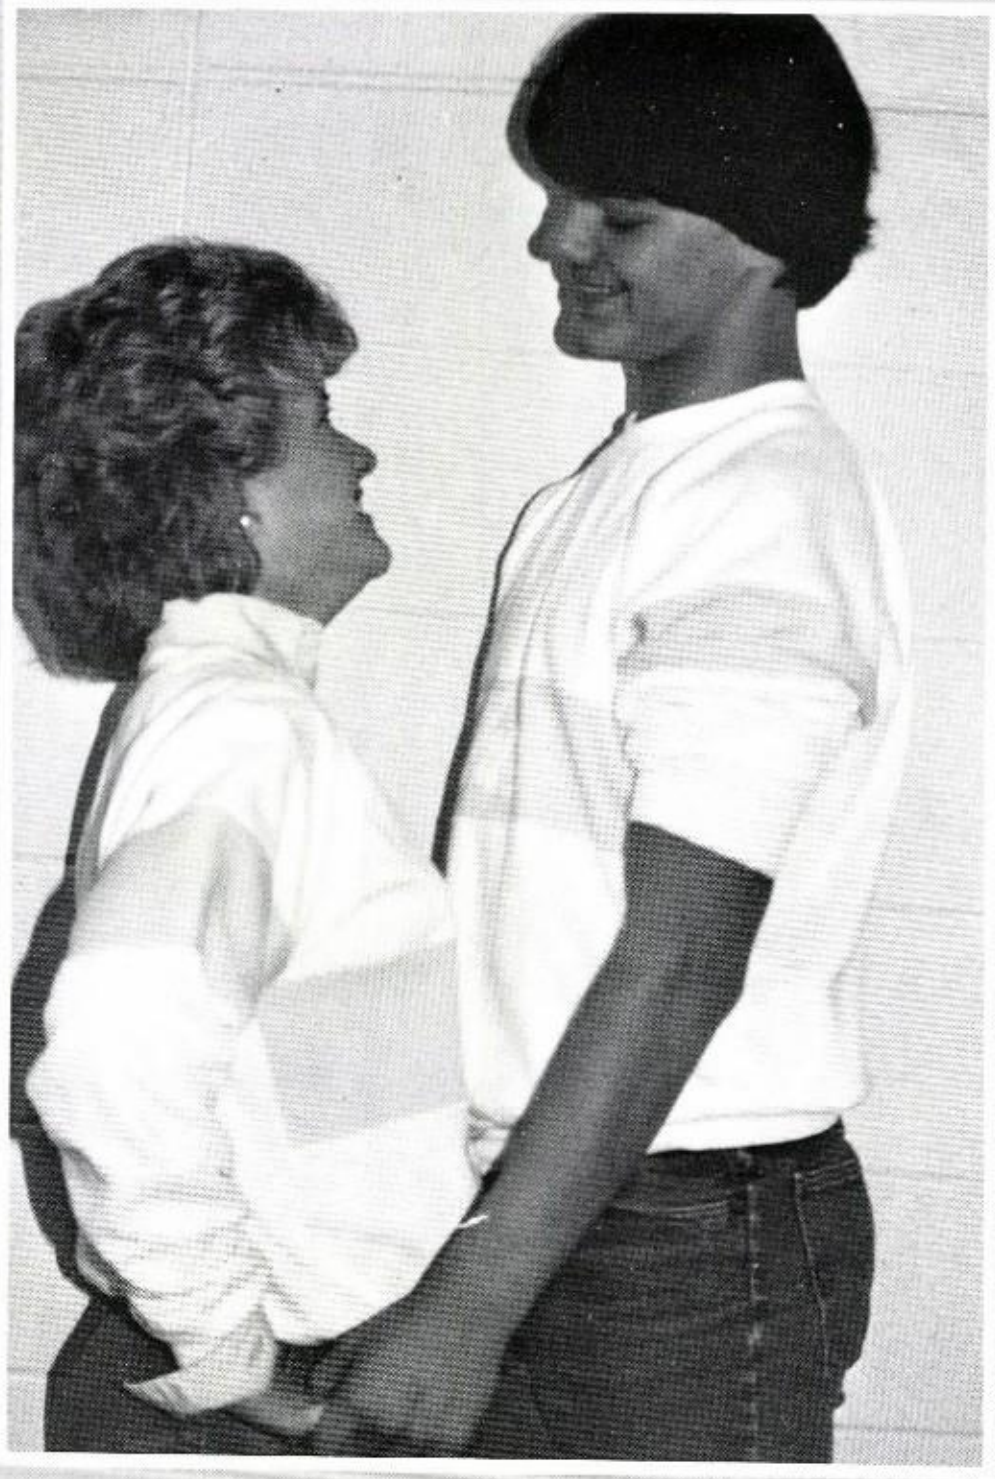
The Homecoming court, each maid beautifully dressed from head to toe, were escorted by their fathers or relatives. Our Homecoming queen, Bridget Erwin, was presented a bouquet of roses by assistant principal, Mr. Donnie Robinson, and was crowned by North DeSoto's principal, Mr. Huey Bryant.

After the ceremony, the queen and her court were treated royally and given front row seats to the Homecoming game.





In The Wink Of An Eye



You've noticed him walk down the hall, hanging out with a group of guys, or watched him in 2nd hour. He's gorgeous!

You see her pass you in the hall. She flashes you a smile. You decided to play it cool. Let her flirt a while.

You've chased him all year. You are almost ready to give up until, you catch him watching you in 2nd hour. Could it be possible — a whole school year of chasing him has finally paid off? Is it possible he knows you're alive?

You decide she's suffered enough. You'll see her at the party tonight. Maybe give her a smile to make her feel good, watch her fall under your magic spell.

You're dressed to kill. After four hours of primping, your hair looks better than it has all year. He's got to notice you tonight.

You see her walk into the room. She looks beautiful! You wonder why you didn't notice that before. You flash her your perfect smile and a quick wink. She looks right past you.

You enter the room with confidence. You see him watching you from a corner. You catch his wink. It's then that you notice the guy standing behind him. What a knockout! You smile. He smiles back

Now You See Her, Now You Don't!

"Good evening. My name is Stacy Ybos and I am proud to have been chosen to represent the Be . . . "

Should our Miss NDH Springime Sweetheart be titled Miss NDH Kleptomaniac instead? That's what most thought after she stole the audience's attention, and along with it the gymnasium's lights, causing 23 lovely contestants to be left standing in the dark after a power shortage blackend the entire town.

"The only thing I remember was my feet killing me!" says 11th grader Pam Erwin, after recalling standing in the same spot for over half an hour.

"I thought - 'Oh no! Please don't let this happen! Not tonight!" said the repesentative of the FBLA Club, MeLisa O'Quinn.

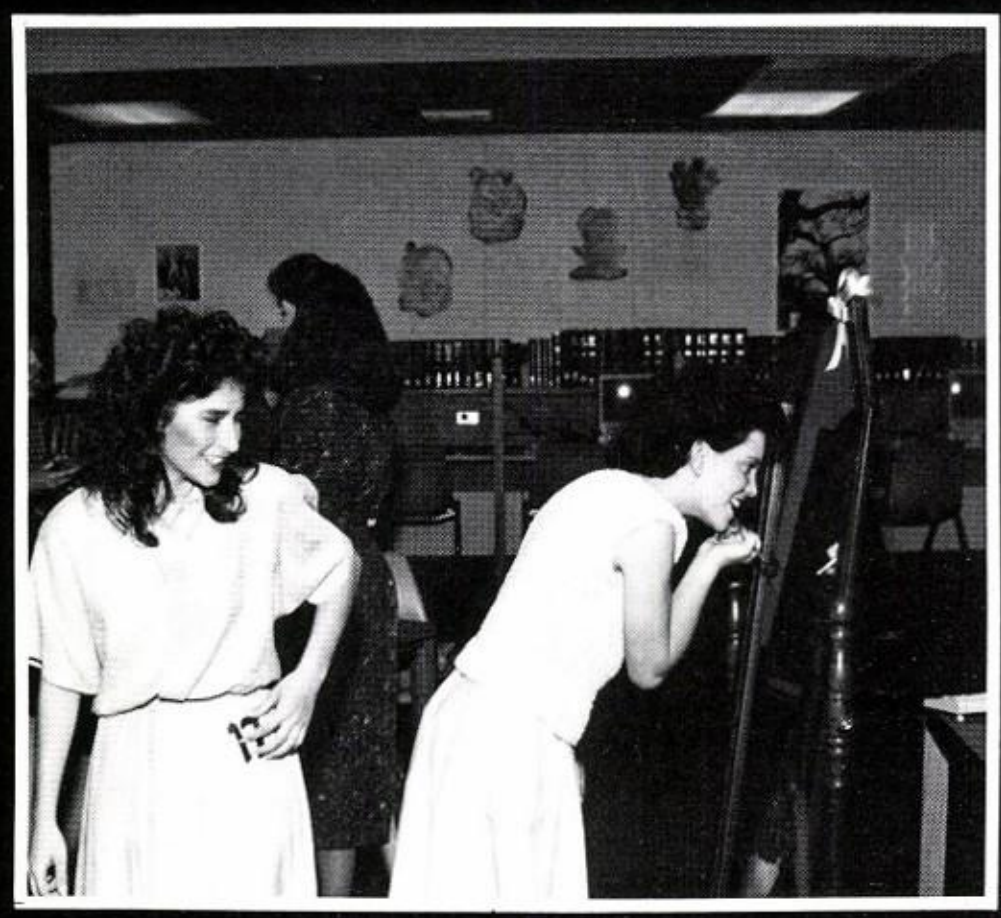
What went through my mind? That's easy. NEVER AGAIN!" laughs Dena Kennedy, one of the 11th grade contestants.

Even though it wasn't the greatest thing that could have happened, the blackout was helpful in at least one way. It calmed the nerves of almost every contestant.

"After the lights went out, I didn't have any more butterflies. It was so much easier," reports Liz Glenn who represented Sr. 4-H.

When asked what was the first thought that went through her mind, Felicia Hall stated, "I was wondering if they postponed it would I have the courage to go through it again."

The overall winner, Stacy Ybos, seemed to have every one in the audience on her side. It was a shame she didn't have the same affect on the lights!



Stacy Ybos was crowned Miss NDH Springtime Sweetheart. Karen Hodges was chosen 1st Runner-Up.
2nd Runner-Up was Stacey Miller. Pilar Frizzel placed 3rd Runner-Up, and Donna Evans was 4th Runner-Up.

The top ten finalists (not pictured) were Kim Alewyne, Kristy Greco, Pilar Frizzel, Shannon Williamson, Stacey Miller, Liz Glenn, Donna Evans, Karen Hodges, Stacy Ybos, and Tammy Rushton.

A Night To Remember

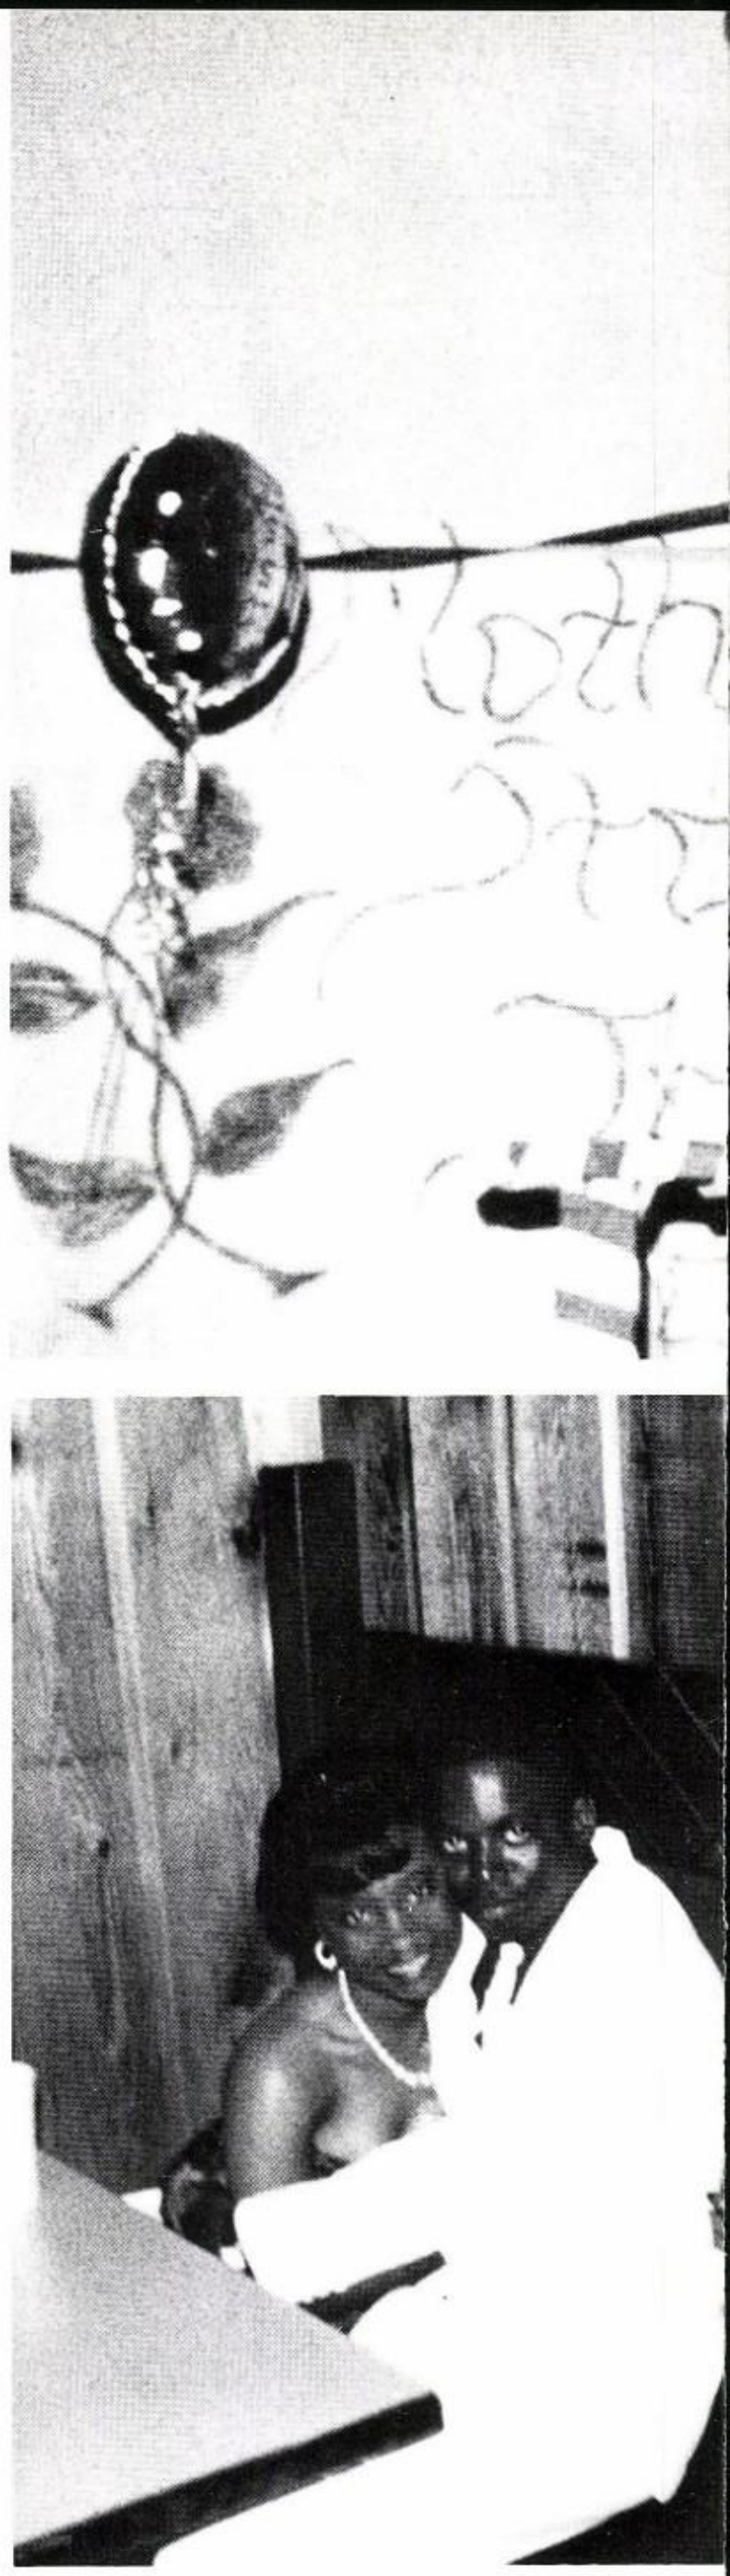
Nothing's Gonna Stop Us Now!!!

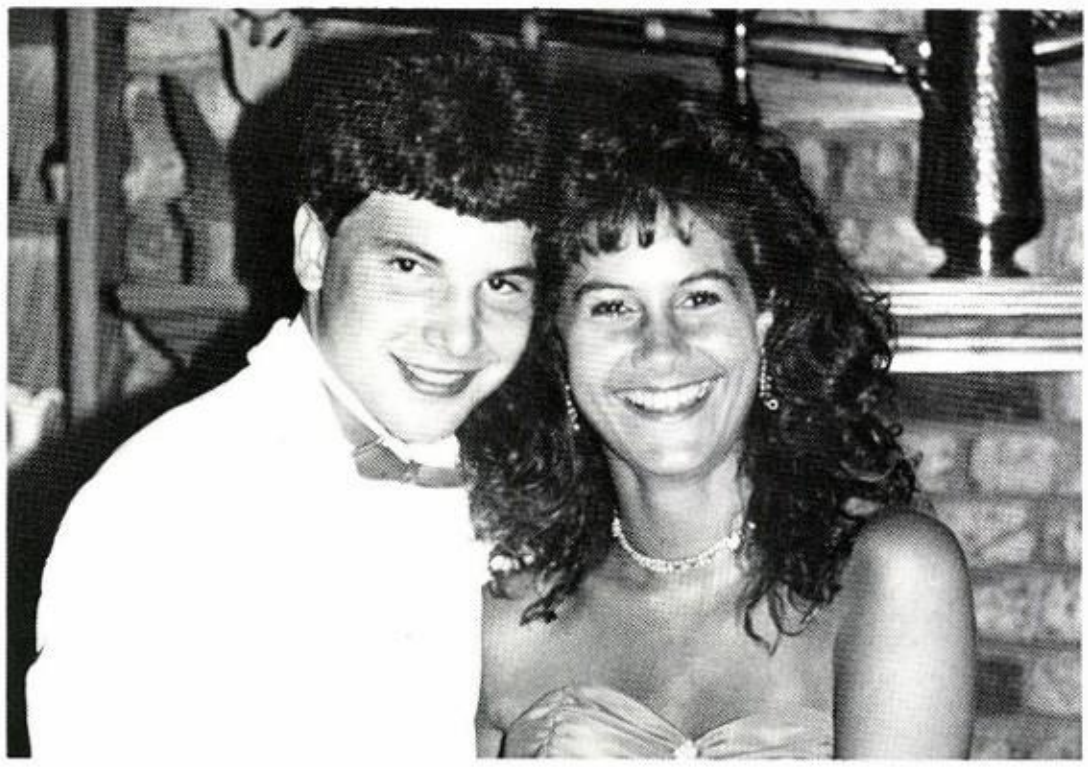
Dim lights, fancy decorations, and very loud, totally RAD music lifted the roof off of our gym Saturday evening, May 2, 1987. This was the night of our Junior/ Senior Prom. Bursting with energy and excitement, the Juniors, Seniors, and friends rocked the night away. This was to be one of the more memorable nights of our lives.

"Let's hit the dance floor," said Robert Smith. Eager to dance, I took his hand and danced my feet off.

Around 9 or 10 most of us were getting hungry, so we left to devour some food. After satisfying our growling stomachs, we went our separate ways.

No one knows exactly where anyone else went, but after partying down and munching out, we went home and slept like there was no tomorrow. Prom was truly a "Night to Remember."



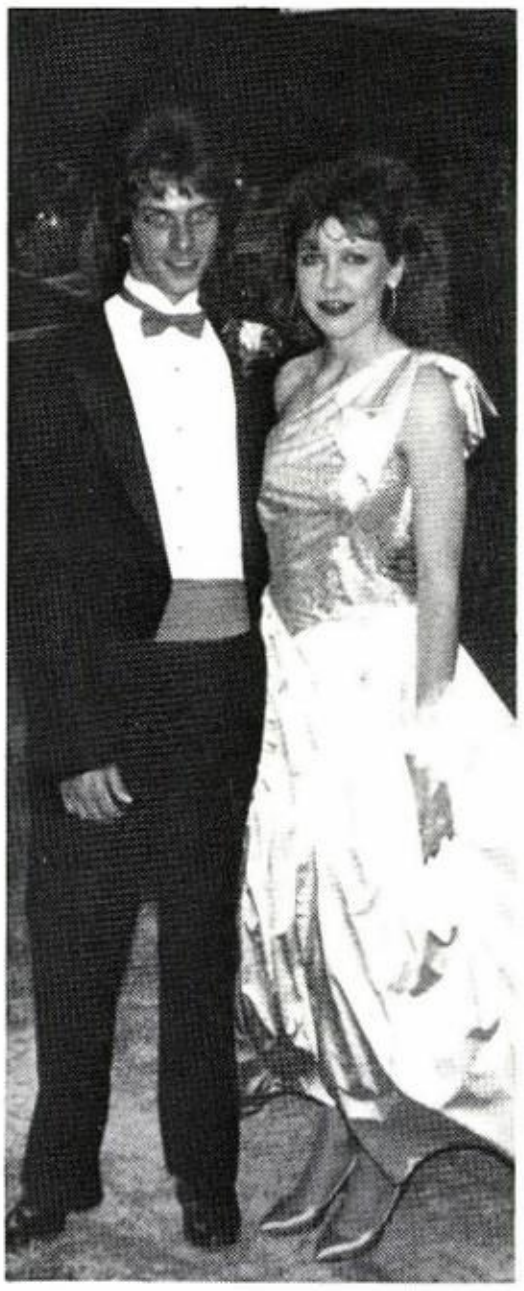


Carey and Danielle must have had a great time.

Rolanda and Robert sure found the right place to rest after a long night of dancing . . . where's the food!

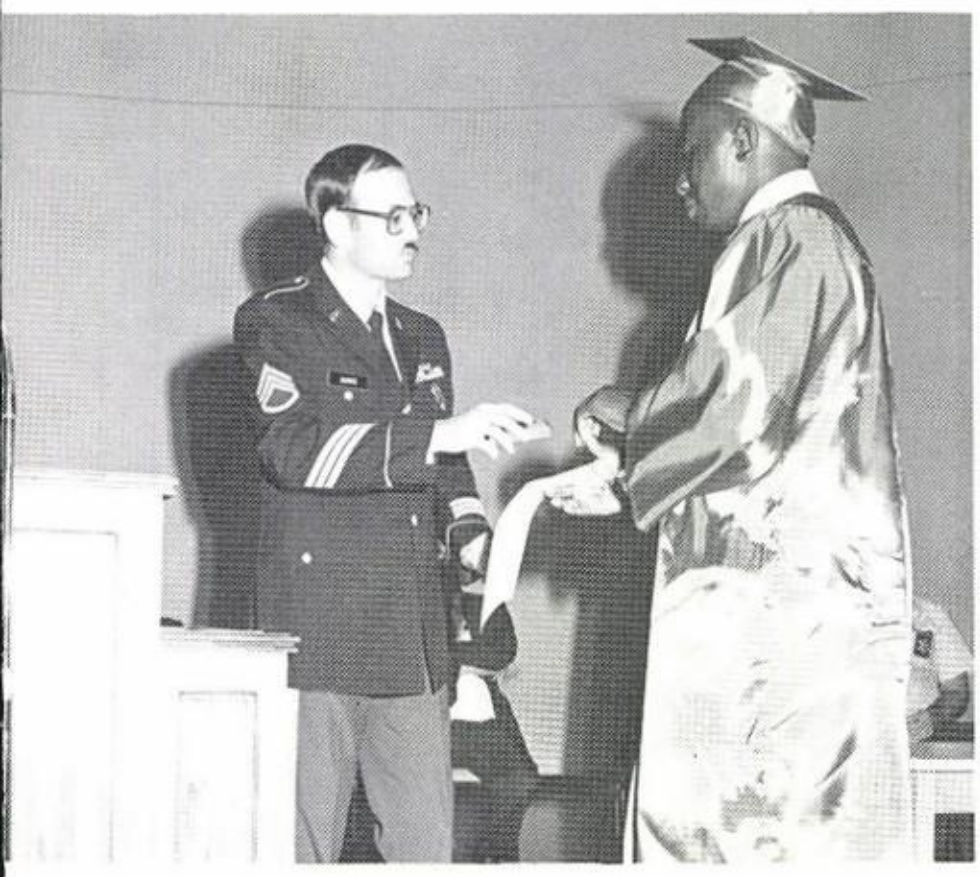
What a theme! Nothing's gonna stop us now. Koeaster and her date sure seem to think that's true.

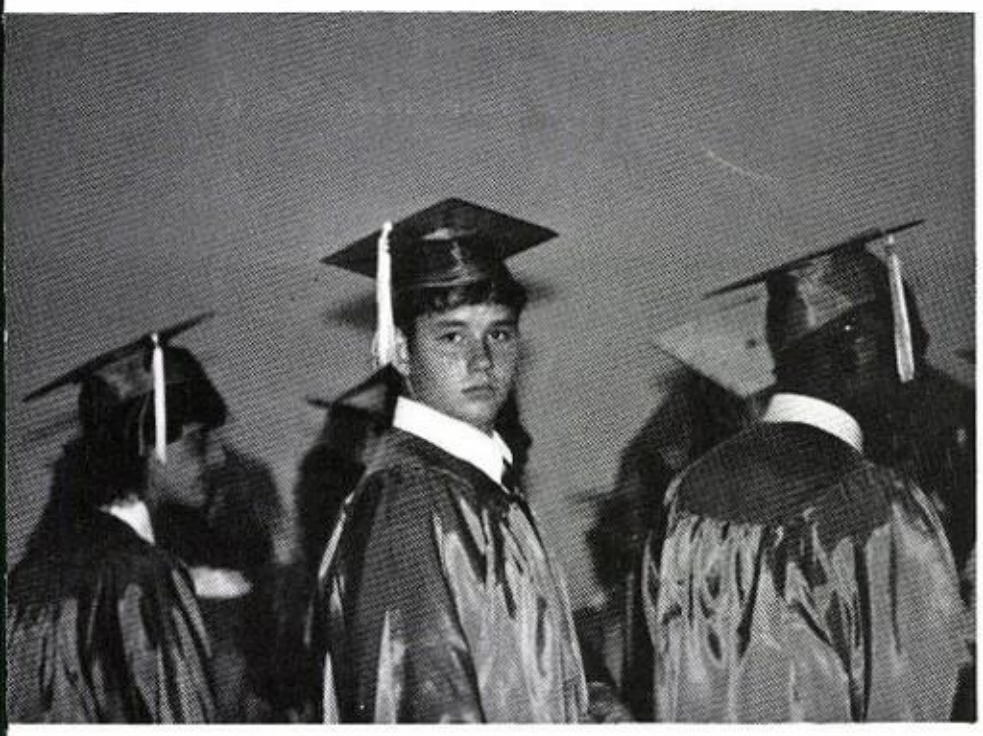
Mitchell and Tammy are finally on their way, but wait!! Mom's just got to take one more picture.

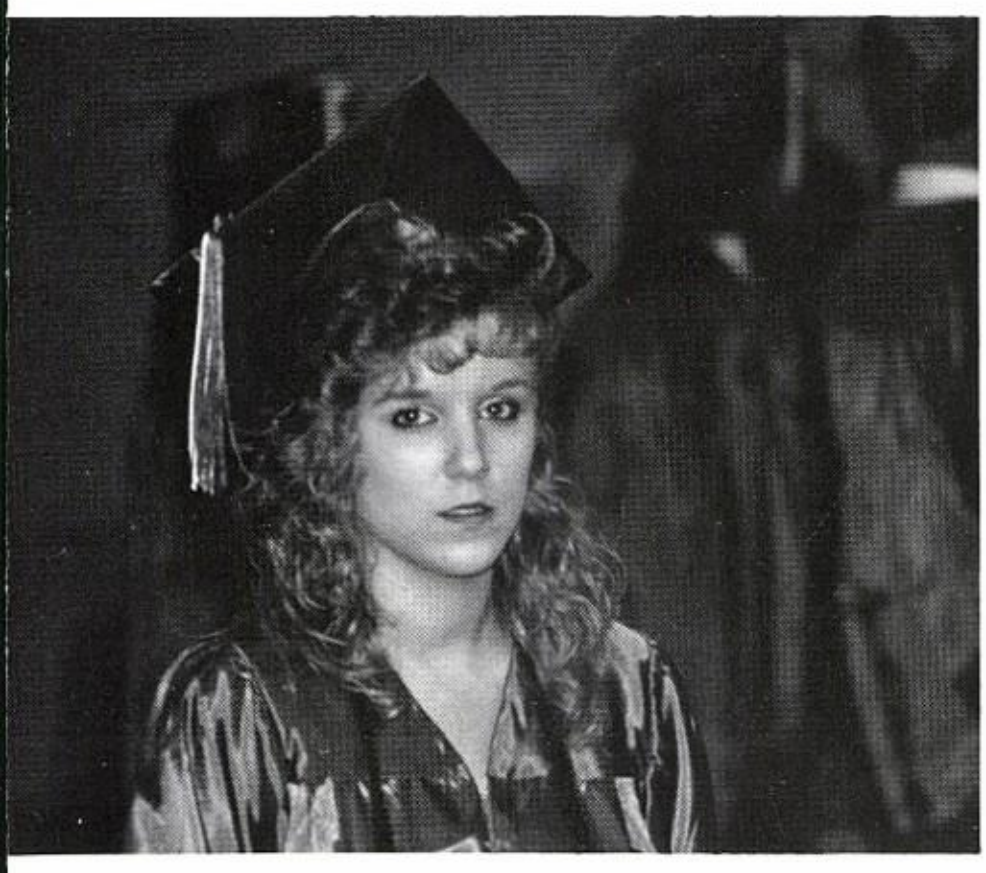


Don't Mark and Karen look sharp? It won't last though. By the end of the evening her hair will fall and his cologne will wear off, but they'll still have fun anyway!

Is There Life After High School?







"Oh, great! The first day of school and my senior year! Come on, let's get this over with!"

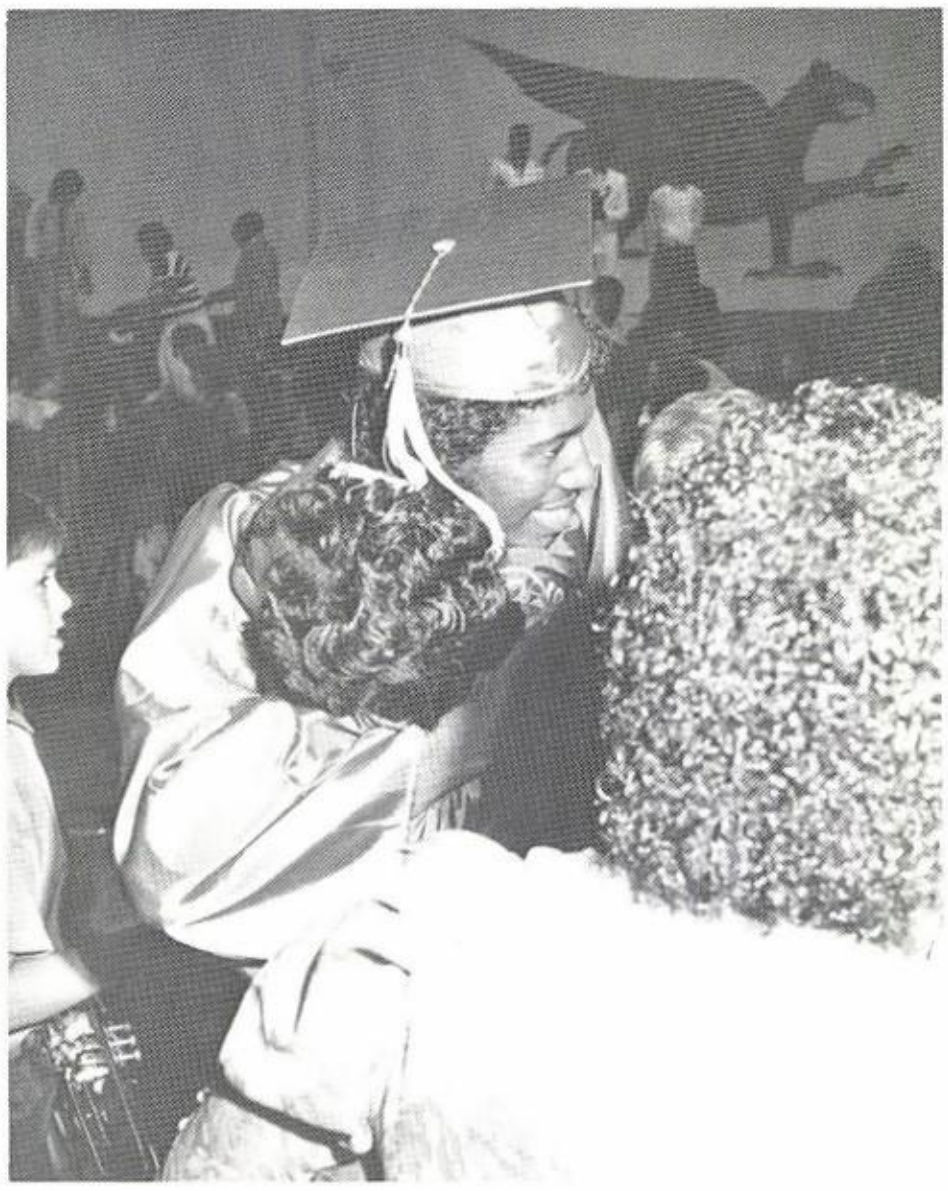
"Christmas vacation, finally! What a year this is! I say we just get it over with!"

"Gosh! Graduation's next week! Great! Then I'll be free! Free to do what I want! Sleep late; stay out all night! I can't wait! I just have to get this week over with!"

"I'm free! It's over! I have my diploma! Now, it's party time from here on out! No more getting up early! I can just lay around and have lots of fun!! What, Dad? Job? What Job? Hey! Where'd my senior year go?"

Each of the graduating seniors held different thoughts, but the one almost all of them shared was "Where'd my senior year go?" And it was true. The Senior '87 school year didn't last long, leaving most graduates with the question, "Where do I go from here?"

It is definitely time to move on, a chance to find out that there really is "life after high school".

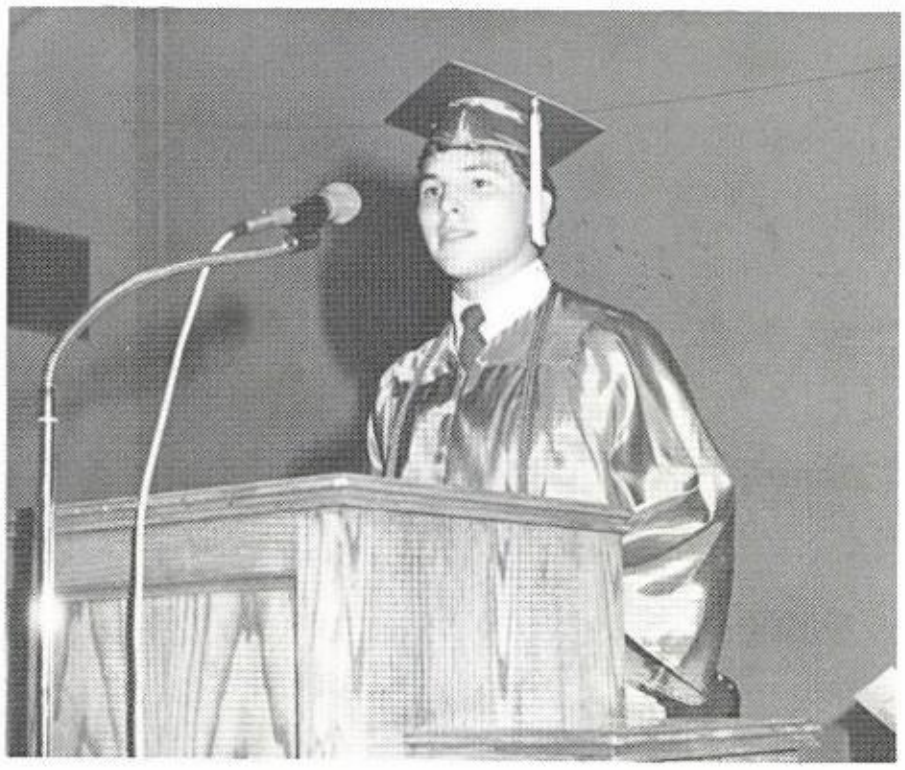


After ceremony, Delores Graham stands proud and tall beside her mother.

Seniors Melinda Clark, Mattie Washington, Betty Freeman, and Ryan Wells are ready to take that big step.

Beverly Smith receives a congratulations hug from Mom.

Dare To Be . . . At The Top!!

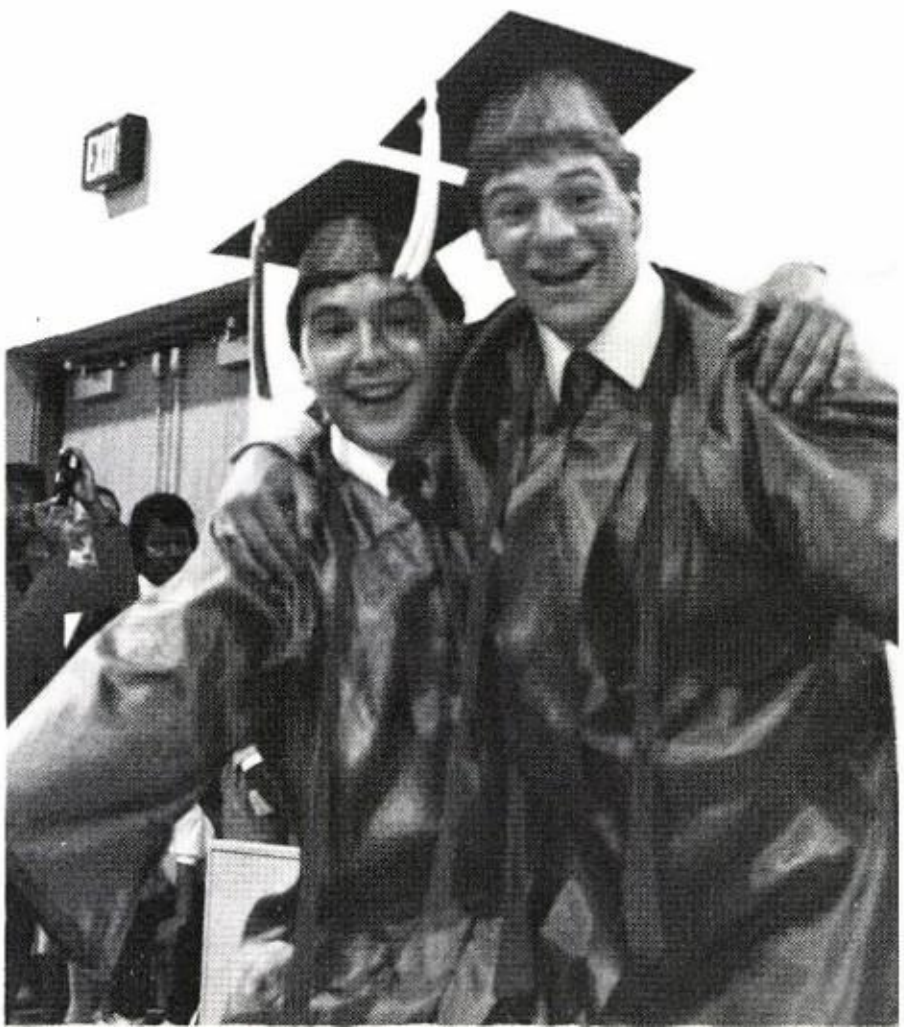


The Valedictorian of North DeSoto's graduating class of 1987 is Chad Hebert, the son of Mr. and Mrs. Darrell Hebert of Stonewall. Chad received a full academic scholarship to LSUS, where he plans to major in prelaw.

North DeSoto had a first, this year - two Salutatorians. Carey Martin and Leah Rieve have grade point averages too close to call, so both are co-Salutatorians.

Carey is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Martin of Frierson. Carey plans to study Agriculture Economics at LSU, and is the recepient of several scholarships which will aid him financially.

Leah Rieve is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Rieve of Stonewall. Leah plans to attend LSU-S where she will major in prepharmacology.



Memories To Hold

Waiting with anticipation,
All nervous and cold,
Your palms get sweaty;
It's like I've always been told.

But in the last few minutes
The seconds grow old,
And then you've got it
To grasp so bold.

Graduation is now over,
With only memories to hold.

And The Winner Is?

The FFA Club

Our winner of the group photo contest this year was the FFA club. This club is a very active one, sending representatives to the National FFA Convention and doing various fundraisers. FFA also participated in National Farm Safety Week, putting caution stickers on tractors and designing informative bulletin boards in classrooms. With such dynamic leadership, who knows what else FFA has up their sleeve?

CAN YOU GUESS . . . The Name Of The Game?

Sports-that's the name of the game! Whether its baseball, basketball, football, weightlifting or track, they are all linked together by the same name-sports. In one way or another everyone is involved — a crazy fan in the bleachers of a basketball game — the worried girlfriend of a football player — the world of sports is a big part of school life. If sports is the name of the game, teamwork is what ties it all together. Win or lose, our students, fans and players hold their heads high and Griffin pride shines through.

Education Quiz

Would I dare skip school to miss a quiz?
Would I dare make a cheatsheet for a test?
Would I dare throw spitballs at my classmates while they are trying to listen to the teacher?

Now that you have evaluated yourself, I would like to stress the importance of education.

UP, UP, and AWAY

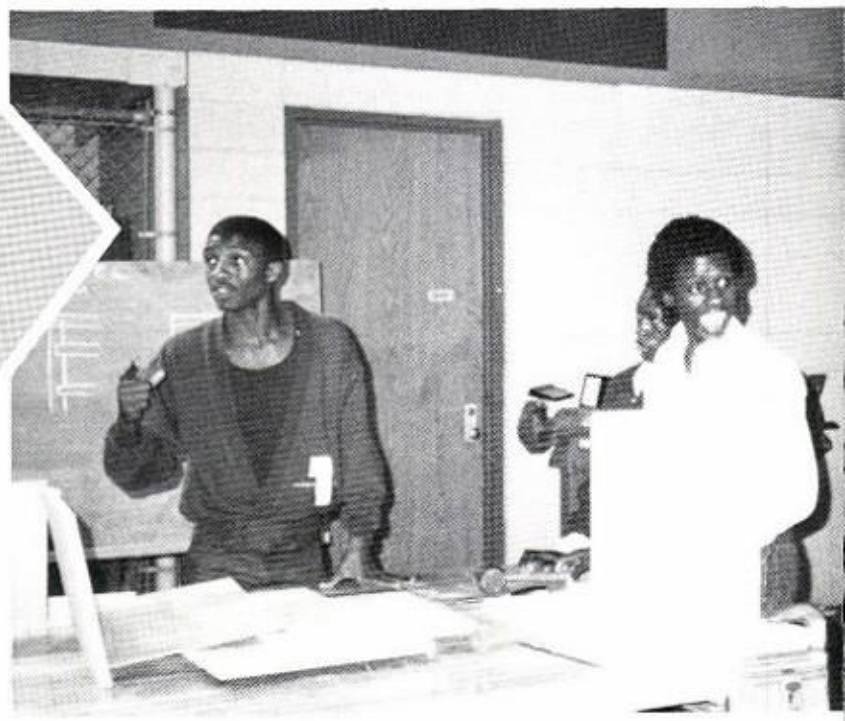
Education is very important and essential to our lives. It prepares us to be a part of knowledge and is the key to our dreams. Education is worthwhile, and I dare you to try it!!!

GET A Piz-za THE.



On Friday, April 3, 1987, nine students of NDHS, along with Mrs. Wilson and Mrs. Berry, left for LSU Baton Rouge ready for a fun filled weekend. The purpose of this trip was to take an exam in our various subjects for the State Literary Rally.

That evening we arrived tired from the ride, but ready for action. After cruising the campus and finding our classrooms, we headed out to eat. Our final decision for dining was Chile's restaurant and guess what happened to be right next door: Photon, the ultimate laser tag game.

Being the adventurous students that we are, we decided to give it a try. Watching the game being played from the observation deck reassured us of our fighting abilities. In order to play the game, a passport is issued to you with your picture and everything. We loaded up with all the equipment and it was off to the battlefield. One of the best parts about the game was not getting killed. Ten points were gained when you shot a player from the other team and ten points were lost when you got shot. So we fought to the finish and got a few points.

We returned to the motel hoping to get enough sleep for the next day. It had been a full but fun day.

The next morning it was rise and shine to take our tests, which we all did our best on. Then off to the big city of Stonewall to crash in our own homes.

Faces, faces, and more faces-let your fingers do the walking through these pages and you'll catch glimpses of faces that soon will be just fond memories. You'll see people who were once your best friends and now you don't get to be with them too often. You'll look at the faces and remember all of the good times you have had together.

Take a good look at the people who were close to you. But if their picture happens not to be the greatest-don't blame us-not everyone is Picture Perfect.

To Whom it may Concern:

We, the Seniors of 1987, realize that we didn't always behave as mature, young, responsible adults, and we would like to express our sincere apologies for the following acts: (1) The Sassy manner we used to our teachers and advisors. (2) Our Energetic behavior in classes, especially near the very end of school. (3) Our Neurotic minds making us pull the crazy stunts we did. (4) The Irresponsibility we showed when our teachers were trying to change us into mature adults. (5) The Outrageous way we tried to fool around and still graduate. (6) And the Radical example we seemed to have set for our underclassmen. We beg your forgiveness for any broken school rules and misconduct on our behalf, and we just have one last word to say ----- PSYCH!

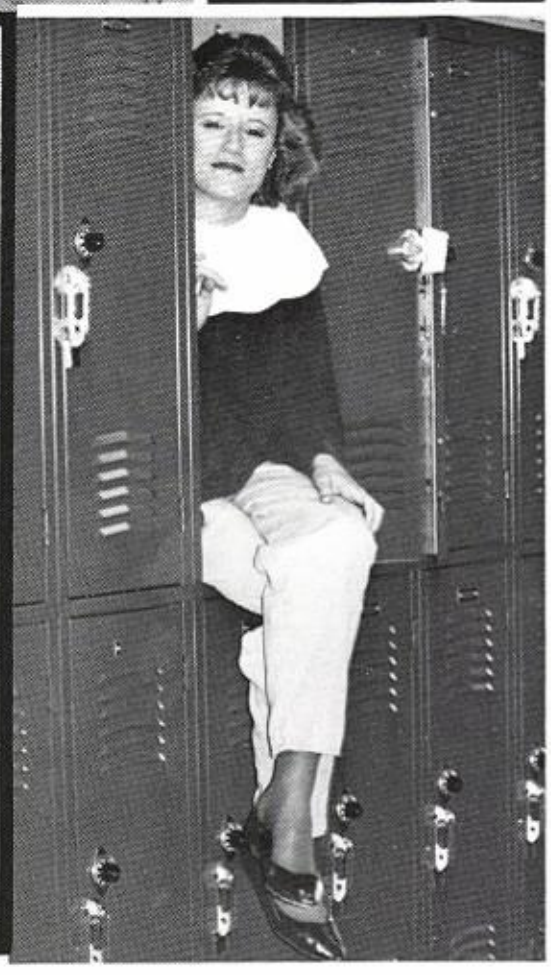
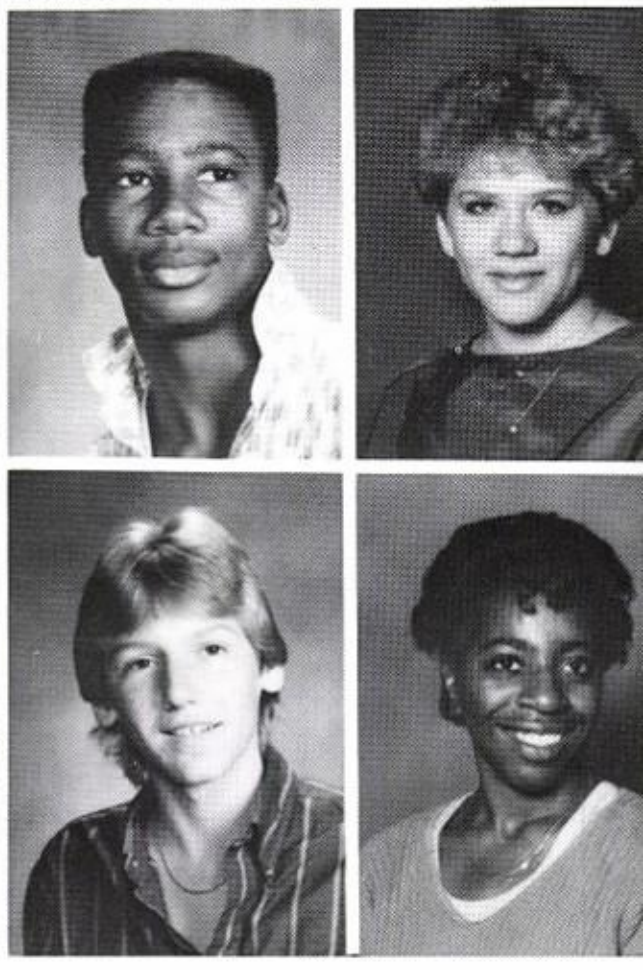
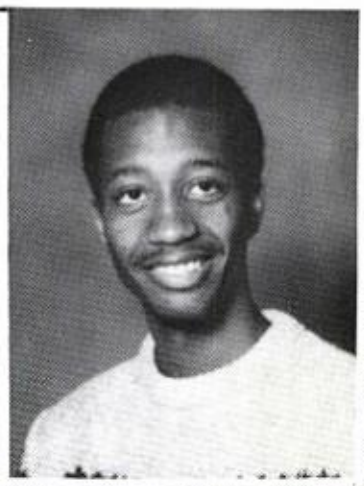
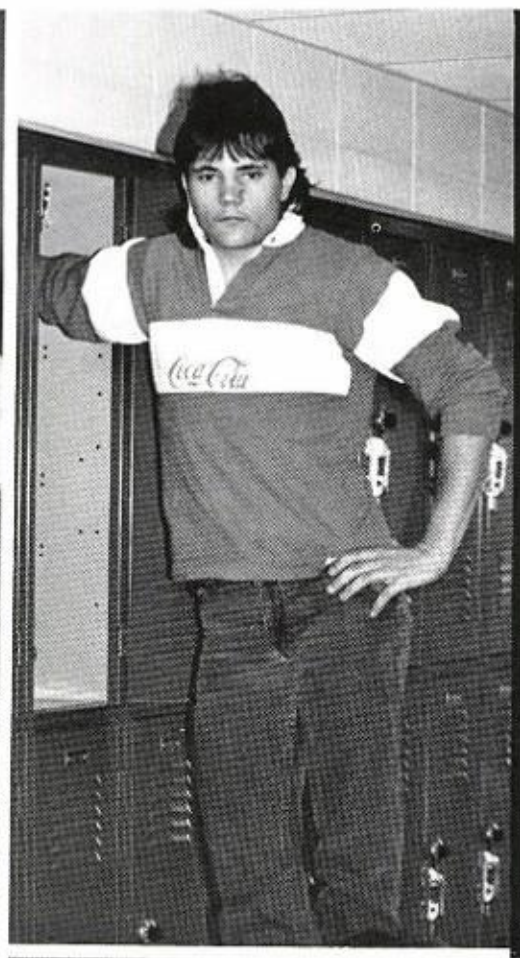
We ask Pam Erwin how she felt about being chosen as Junior class favorite along with Bill Lee, and she replied, "I thought it was GREAT! I think the main reason people chose Bill and I as class favorites together was because we had just began to notice one another and everyone thought we were a cute couple."





Richard Stillwell
Gloria Thomas





Yearbook staffers talked to Bill Lee many times concerning his feelings about being chosen class favorite along with Pam Erwin, his latest sweetheart. But his only comment was, "Ya'll put what you wanna put, just don't make me look like a nerd."

It's Been Fun

Hasn't It, Staff?
Right? Hasn't It?

Another year has come to an end, and the yearbook staff can breathe a sigh of relief. Whew!!! the end is in sight!! Of course the work never really comes to an end. You senior staffers thought you could graduate and be gone, right? Wrong! You've got just one more section to finish, so you drag yourself out of bed early enough to be at school at, gasp!, 8:30 a.m.! Why on earth did you join yearbook staff? The end result, that's why! Seeing that yearbook next year makes it all worth the effort knowing that you had the idea for that page everyone is raving about.

I remember thinking back over the last year, the happenings during yearbook hours: Having our own special Olympics when Mrs. Berry was gone, Getting to see the pictures before anybody else, Watching Bridget flirt with Mr. Baker, and the deadline parties when we all munched on pizza.

When you're on yearbook staff, you learn about the people you work with daily. I knew Stacy Y. was crazy, but not that crazy, and I wonder if Stephanie ever keeps her shoes on? Who would have thought Penny would write biographies, and Stacy M., is that another picture of Rick? Do Gwen and Debra ever wear anything that doesn't match? I wonder if Stacy knows about all the time Donna spent with the coaches? Really, just because she's sports editor doesn't mean she actually has to talk to them, does it? Karen still has her creative eating habits, and I never knew Bridget was that picky about pictures. Did you know that Tammy is actually hitting the books? Not school books, of course, but receipt books. (close enough) If you ever need something indexed, just call Sonya, and for off-the-wall ideas, Dawn is your best bet.

Yearbook staff isn't all just fun and games, though. We had our share of fights and arguements. With 13 girls on one staff, you can't always grin and bear it, but we made our peace, pulled together as a team, pulled it off- and had FUN doing it!!

The yearbook editorial staff would like to say a special thank you to ad-staff Sherri Stillwell, who sold over two hundred dollars in ads for the 1986-87 book. Thanks again Sherri!!!

When you leave home to do your shopping, please remember the advertisers on the following pages. These businesses purchased ads from us and are the major source of income for your yearbook. We appreciate our advertisers and ask you to show your appreciation to them by giving them your business.

DARE TO . . .

ANNIE ELIZABETH LEGRANDE

Annie Elizabeth Beard was born October 30, 1918 in Pleasant Hill, La., as the daughter of Julius H. Beard Sr. and Pearl Smith Beard of Verda, La. She also had two brothers: Julius Hunt, Jr. (deceased) and William Grady Beard.

Annie Elizabeth Beard began her education at Summer Grover Elementary, transferring during the seventh grade to Barrett School. Later, she and her family moved to Stonewall where she graduated. Afterward, she attended Northwestern State University and graduated with a B.S. in education. She continued her education and received a masters degree from Stephen F. Austin.

Miss Beard taught home economics at Pelican High School, but returned almost a year later to Winn Parish. There she worked as a home demonstration agent. Later, Miss Beard moved to New Orleans to work as as therapeutic dietition at Southern Baptist hospital. There Miss Beard and Clay C. LeGrande met, married in 1944, and had three children: Margret Anne Dickerson, presently teaching kindergarten at Stonewall Elementry, Clay C. LeGrande Jr., now working for a company that trains employees for the city of New Orleans, and William Hunt, a professor at University of Wisconsin also has a doctorate in Ichthyology. Mrs. LeGrande has eight grandchildren, and three great-grandchildren.

In 1949, the LeGrandes moved to Stonewall and Mrs. LeGrande began teaching home economics at Longstreet in 1952. From 1961-1982, Mrs. LeGrande's responsibilities at Stonewall High School included teaching home economics, 7th and 8th grade language arts, Sr. English, Freshman English, Civics, Jr. High Science, Biology and serving the student body as counselor, Assistant Principal, and Principal. For the past five years Mrs. LeGrande served at North DeSoto High School as our guidance counselor and an Adult Education teacher.

From house to house, door to door in the Stonewall community, top floor to basement, front gate to the Ag. building, every student and parent knew Mrs. LeGrande.

Mrs. LeGrande will be missed by the teachers and students here at N.D.H.S. We give our thanks for all she has done. Will we dare to dream that another will fill her shoes with the drive, determination, and above all the love Mrs. LeGrande has for education?

LEAVE US!!!

This year's edition of North DeSoto's Griffin is being dedicated to Mrs. Annie LeGrande and Mr. Huey Bryant, Jr. for a grand total of sixty-one years of dedication to education.

Huey Bryant, Jr.

The North DeSoto High Yearbook Staff dedicates this yearbook to Mr. Huey Bryant, Jr., in remembrance of all the time, effort and happiness he has put into our school in the past five years.

Mr. Bryant, the son of Huey Bryant, Sr. and Arquallar Bryant, attended school at Ingersoll High School in 1952. Less than a year after graduating from high school he was drafted into the army where he served four years.

Mr. Bryant graduated from Southern University in Baton Rouge, La. in 1962, attaining his B.S. degree in Mathematics and Science. In 1976 he received a Masters Degree from Northwestern State University in Administration and Supervision.

On February 9th, 1957 Mr. Bryant married Will Amanda Scott. A daughter, Yardis Danette, joined the Bryant household in April 1958. Mr. Bryant taught mathematics at Logansport Rosenwald High School in 1962-1971. Later during the years of 1971-1982, he was principal of Logansport Rosenwald High School. In 1982 he became principal of North DeSoto High School.

Mr. Bryant has served on the Board of the 1st National Bank of Logansport, La. He is also on the Board of the Community Health Center.

1987 became a year of beginnings and endings for the Bryants, marked by the birth of their first grandchild in March, and Mr. Bryants retirement in May. Mr. Bryant has been heard to proclaim, "When I retire, I don't want to be around any dogs, children, or old people."

Bye Ya'll

You all come back now,
Ya hear!!

A U T O G R A P H S

Sarah;
I enjoyed knowing you the last couple of years. I think you are a very smart and intelligent person. Thanks for being my friend and a person I can talk to in computer literacy. You are a very silly person, and also lots of fun to be around.
